Concert in Town Hall.

A concert was given in the Town hall on Monday evening by Evangelist H. Kernohan and wife, assisted by their four children. The concert was sacred and the proceeds are to be used for missionary work. The attendance was very large, considering the attractions at various other places on that evening, nearly 500 persons being paesent.

Mrs. Kernohan, who is better known as the "Swedish Nightingale" (because of her relationship to the distinguished "Prima Donna" of that name, and also because of her wonderful vocal powers) not only sang in Swedish, but in ten different languages.

Their four children, ranging in ages from seven years to thirteen, have all inherited their mother's musical ability, and were heard in song and recitation. Master Karl, the boy soprano who is soloist from Emmanuel church, Boston, rendered some difficult selections during the evening, with his clear, sweet voice, which has a remarkable range for a boy of thirteen, and always under perfect control.

This was the most pleasing and interesting entertainment ever given for home missionary work and was well supported by the citizens of town.

Obituary.

WILLIAM G. HIGGINS.

William G. Higgins died Tuesday morning at 4.30 o'clock, of pneumonia, after a brief illness of only two weeks at the age of 56 years. The deceased was born in York, Me., in 1848. When about 18 years old he came to Lawrence. After working there a number of years he went to Barrington, N. H. Later he went to Boston, where he entered the employ of W. L. Lockhart & Company, the well known undertaker, where his steady and industrious habits made him one of the most trusted and efficient employees of the firm for whom he worked 25 consecutive years.

Mr. Higgins bought the "Murch Farm" in Ballardvale last May and he and his wife have since resided in our Village. He was a sober, industrious man and his many sterling traits of character made for him many steadfast friends, notwithstanding the short time that he had resided in this community. Besides his wife, he leaves a sister, Mrs. Hiram Keene, of Kittery, Me., and a brother, Timothy Higgins of Wells, Me.

He was a member for the past 18 years of New England lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., of Cambridge, the oldest lodge in the state and of Amity lodge of Rebekahs, No. 15, of Cambridge. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home and was conducted by the Rev. Augustus H. Fuller. Miss Kathryn Bulkley of Lawrence, sang with considerable power and feeling "Lead Kindly Light," "Face to Face," and "Nearer my God to Thee."

The flowers were very beautiful and consisted beside the lovely floral offerings from his wife, niece, and nephew, a wreath of pinks and chrysanthemums from Amity lodge of Rebekahs, No. 15, of Cambridge, a spray of pinks from Indian Ridge lodge, No. 136, of Andover a wreath from W. L. Lockhart & Co., a spray of chrysanthemums from his shopmates, and a spray of chrysanthemums from his Ballardvale neighbors.

A delegation of Odd Fellows from Andover lodge conducted their burial service. The remains were conveyed on the 8.18 train Friday morning to Barrington, N. H., where they were interred in the family lot.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all my neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and words of sympathy during my recent bereavement and trouble.

MRS. WILLIAM G. HIGGINS.

HOW THE BALLOTS ARE COLLECTED AND RECORDED.

While the clerks at the office of the secretary of state are all through with the work of getting out the ballots for the election they are only enjoying a short breathing spell before they are flooded with the election returns which they must sort and get into shape for the governor and council who are to officially examine them and issue a proclamation as to who is elected.

October 4, the secretary of state's office sent to each of the city and town clerks a number of return blanks. These included one for presidential electors, one for governor and one each for lieutenant governor, secretary, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, congressman, councillor, senator, representative, district attorney and sheriff. With each of these was an envelope and included was a large packet envelope addressed to the secretary of state.

As fast as each paper is filled out by the city or town clerk it is to be placed in its proper envelope and sealed. Then finally the whole lot of envelopes are to be placed in the larger envelope sealed and mailed to the secretary.

At the secretary's office the larger envelope is opened and each of these interior envelopes is dated when received and then they are sorted into bundles to correspond to the different districts of which that particular city or town is a part. If on opening one of these larger envelopes one of the interior envelopes is found unsealed, it is laid aside in that condition and the particular city or town clerk notified that he must at once send a new certificate. The first is invalidated because it must go to the governor's council in unsealed envelope.

City and town clerks have ten days in which to make these returns to the secretary of state. In Boston the election commissioners have five days more. The governor with at least five councillors open and tabulate these returns and officially determine who are elected to the several offices, and issues his summons to such persons as appear to be chosen.

The city and town clerks make returns of all votes cast for county commissioner and associate county commissioner to the clerk of court of their county. These returns are opened by a board of examiners consisting of the judge and registrar of the probate court and the clerk of court. This board meets on the first Wednesday of the month following the election, examines the returns and issues a certificate of election to the successful candidates.

In case of the representatives to the general court, while returns signed by the city and town clerk are sent to the secretary of state, transcripts of these signed by the selectmen in towns are sent to the town clerk in those districts made up of several towns.

In cities the returns are examined and certificates of election are issued by the aldermen. In districts composed of a single town, certificates are issued by the selectmen. In districts composed of more than one town the town clerks meet together on the tenth day following the day of election, tabulate the returns and issue the certificates of election.

In the case of presidential electors the returns must be opened by the governor and council at least ten days after they have been transmitted to the secretary of state. This board shall thereafter declare, by proclamation printed in at least one newspaper in each county the names of the persons who have received at least one fifth of the entire number of votes cast for electors and the number of votes received by each person. If no contest is made within fourteen days from the date of such proclamation, the 16 having the most votes shall be deemed elected and the governor shall thereupon issue a certificate of election to every such person.

NO THIRD TERM FOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—President Roosevelt tonight issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me and I shall do all that in my power lies, not to forfeit it. On the fourth of March next I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY IS PLEASANT TO TAKE.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect." For sale by all druggists. Lawrence; W. A. Allen, Andover; C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

More Electoral Votes than any other President.

It appears from the returns that when the electoral college meets President Roosevelt will have 343 votes in that body and Judge Parker will have 133.

According to these figures President Roosevelt will have a majority of 210 is the largest majority any candidate for the presidency has had in the electoral college, but the facts are that a number of Presidents have been further ahead of their opponents than President Roosevelt will be ahead of Judge Parker.

President Roosevelt will have in the electoral college more votes than any other candidate has ever had, but the number of his votes is due in part to the increase in the size of the electoral college.

Several states have now more votes than they had in 1900 and the total vote in the college is 29 more than it was four years ago. Most of these new votes are in states which were carried by President Roosevelt on Tuesday.

The proper method of determining the extent of President Roosevelt's victory is to see what percentage of the total vote of the electoral college he will have and then to compare that percentage with those of previous years.

The following tables show that several Presidents have secured a larger percentage in the electoral college than President Roosevelt will have:

1904.	Electoral vote	Per cent
Roosevelt	343	72
Parker	133	28
Total	476	100

* In 1872 Mr. Greeley, the Democratic candidate, died after the election and before the meeting of the electoral college. The Democratic electors divided their strength among several candidates.

 In 1864, 11 southern states did not vote.

 In 1868 three southern states were still disfranchised.

PROFIT

The matter of feed is of tremendous importance to the farmer. Wrong feeding is loss. Right feeding is profit.

The up-to-date farmer knows what to feed his cows to get the most milk, his pigs to get the most pork, his hens to get the most eggs. Science.

But how about the children? Are they fed according to science, a bone food if bones are soft and undeveloped, a flesh and muscle food if they are thin and weak and a blood food if there is anemia?

Scott's Emulsion is a mixed food; the Cod Liver Oil in it makes flesh, blood and muscle, the Lime and Soda make bone and brain. It is the standard scientific food for delicate children.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

COMMERCE and INDUSTRY

Industrial.

New England Mills Start.

Cotton mills at Lowell, Mass.; Augusta, Me., and at several points in Connecticut and Rhode Island which have been idle for several months resumed operations last week. At Fall River it was estimated that the loss in wages was nearly $2,000,000, and it was reported that over 20,000 workers had left the place to secure employment elsewhere.

Mississippi Fig Plantation.

The experiment of growing fig trees on a commercial basis is being tried by A. F. Gardner of Yazoo City, Miss. The trees begin to bear in a year or two and at five years of age average sixty-five pounds of fruit to the tree.

Electricity Beats Steam.

While the first electric locomotive built for the New York Central was being tested, Nov. 1, on a four mile track west of Schenectady, the New York Central limited came along on a parallel track, and something like a race followed. It is said that the electric engine, with eight coaches attached, attained a speed of fifty-five miles an hour and that the steam propelled train was left behind.

Oleo War Becomes National.

The two national dairy organizations—namely, the Buttermakers' association and the Dairy union—in a joint session at St. Louis have promulgated an address to the farmers of the country approving the Pennsylvania plan for organizing the fight against the oleo trust to prevent the repeal of the oleo tax.

Commercial.

Boom In Iron Trade.

The current week's issue of the Iron Age says that reports from all the consuming centers during the past month indicate a scramble for pig iron. The demand appears to be limited only by the willingness of the furnace companies to fill orders. The improvement in prices is also noted in steel billets and sheet bars. The L. and N. has ordered 50,000 tons of rails from the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

Erie Absorbs New System.

According to the Chicago Tribune, the Erie railroad has taken over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad, which recently absorbed the Pere Marquette, thus obtaining a direct line of communication from Cincinnati to Canada. This deal is said to have been negotiated by J. P. Morgan & Co., involving an expenditure of $75,000,000. The new system extends over 5,000 miles of roads, covering territory from Chicago to Buffalo and Cincinnati.

Billions In Railroads.

From advance sheets of the annual number of Poor's Manual of Railroads it is shown that the railway mileage of this country at the end of 1903 was 207,603. This was an increase of 4,595 miles over the preceding year. The cost of the entire railroad construction and equipment is estimated at $11,233,311,285. The capital stock and bonded debt together exceed $13,000,000,000. Gross earnings of the roads were $1,908,000,000 and net earnings $502,508,512. During the year 1,209,684,081 tons of freight and 696,949,925 passengers were carried.

Rival of the Starch Trust.

The Wellington Starch company of Lititz, Pa., has prepared to enter into direct competition with the starch trust by increasing its capital to $2,500,000. The plant is to be enlarged extensively.

Gold Exports Culminate.

After the shipment of $5,000,000 worth of gold from New York to Paris last week, there were signs of a halt in the gold export movement, as shown by a decline in demand rates.

Sale of Ontario and Western.

The sale of a majority of the stock of the Ontario and Western railroad to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company at $45 a share was officially confirmed. By this purchase the New Haven acquires about 500 miles of road, and for the first time a great New England system has direct access to the coal mines of Pennsylvania and to the great lakes, with permanent terminal facilities at Weehawken, opposite New York, by contract with the West Shore. One result of the deal contemplated is a reduction in the price of coal to New England manufacturers. The Ontario line will be double tracked at once from Poughkeepsie bridge to New Haven.

Labor.

Union Wants $250,000 Damages.

An action to recover $250,000 for damages alleged to have been incurred through the lockouts in the building trades at New York city was begun by President George Klinetop of the Brotherhood of Carpenters against President Eidlitz of the Building Trades Employers' association. The complaint avers that one of the means of increasing wages, reducing hours, etc., is to strike—namely, "for the members of the plaintiff in a body or bodies peacefully to abstain from work until their demands are adjusted." After referring to the agreement with the employers by which all strikes and lockouts were to be avoided pending arbitration of disputes the complaint says that the employers locked out the carpenters about Aug. 8 without cause while that agreement was in force. Furthermore it is charged that another organization of carpenters was formed and employed by the association. This suit is only preliminary to others against individual builders, and it was said that other trades would go to law similarly.

Fifty Thousand Illinois Miners Idle.

A large part of the coal mines controlled by the Illinois Coal Operators' association were closed Oct. 31 on account of a strike by the hoisting engineers. A few days later the miners made terms with the operators by ignoring the engineers' union. Thereupon work was resumed.

Anthracite Miners Strike.

About 600 miners employed by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company at Tamaqua, Pa., voted, Nov. 2, to go on strike because the company had refused to reinstate certain men suspended for disobedience of orders in failing to work on Mitchell day.

Another Typewriting Record.

A new record for rapid typewriting is reported from Washington, where Miss Mary Pretty, a copyist in the patent office, succeeded in writing 26,000 words of patent records in one day of seven hours, thus beating by 3,000 words the record held by Miss Cameron in the same office.

SCIENTIFIC

Runaway Airship Unhurt.

After making another entirely successful flight last week, with and against the wind, and sailing three and a half miles in twenty-eight minutes, returning to the point of departure, the Baldwin airship Arrow met with a peculiar accident. In a subsequent flight the motor chain broke, making it necessary to tow the ship back. While the tow ropes were being thrown over a trolley line the big airship got away and was lost in the clouds. On the following day it was found sixteen miles from St. Louis, where the anchor had caught on the limb of a tree, with only slight injuries.

Collapse of Vesuvius Crater.

The cone on the crater of Mount Vesuvius, Italy, which formed during the recent eruption, fell into the volcano Nov. 1, causing a tremendous roar and the emission of a great pall of black smoke and a shower of ashes extending over the country within a radius of twenty-five miles. The disturbance lasted, however, but a short time.

Boll Weevil Gaining Ground.

Professor Oswald Wilson of the department of agriculture, who for a year has been stationed in Texas to study the boll weevil, says experience shows that the pest has come to stay and will spread until it covers every part of the cotton raising district. During the past year it has gone 100 miles into Louisiana, and the crop pest commission of that state has taken down its quarantine against Texas.

Vaccination Under Red Light

Paris hospitals have been testing with good results the recent discovery made by Dr. Goldman that vaccination performed under a red light leaves no scar and causes less pain. The patient is taken into a room where the only light is furnished by an incandescent lamp with a red globe. The dressing of the wound is covered with a red cloth.

Art, Music, Letters

Second Sothern-Marlowe Piece.

Shakespeare's great comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," was produced at New York last week with E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe in the leading roles as Benedick and Beatrice, this being the second number in the Shakespearean repertoire of this twin star combination.

Julia Marlowe.

Again, as in the case of "Romeo and Juliet," the critical estimates gave Miss Marlowe credit for the better work of the two. Her interpretations had more of the joy and exuberance expressed in the poet's lines.

More Wagnerian English.

Henry W. Savage, whose English production of "Parsifal" was brought from Boston to New York last week, announces that owing to the success of his production he has decided to produce in English next year "Tristan and Isolde" and "The Ring of the Nibelung" in its entirety. He believes there is a demand on the part of the public to see and hear the best Wagnerian operas in our own tongue.

Art Awards at the Fair.

Medals and awards for American architects, sculptors and painters have been made known at the world's fair as follows:

Grand prize in architecture, Cass Gilbert of New York for his design of Festival hall, which will be a permanent art museum; also to E. L. Maqueray and Howard Walker for their work in designing the fair buildings.

Grand prizes for sculpture to Ward, St. Gaudens and Bartlett; for painting to La Farge and Sargent; for wood engraving to Timothy Cole and Henry Wolf; in pottery to Henry Mercer, Hugh Robertson and Bruce Rogers.

Gold medals were awarded to a number of other architects, sculptors and painters.

Miscellaneous

Accidents.

By the collapse of a large reservoir at Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 2, nine persons were drowned and eight others injured. Several houses were washed away.

Ten miners were killed by the falling of a cage in the shaft at the Auchincloss colliery of the Lackawanna Coal company near Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 2.

The bodies of twenty-three miners were recovered from the mine at Tercio, Colo., in which an explosion occurred Oct. 28. Many more are believed to have been entombed. The work of rescue was stayed by deadly fumes.

Three persons were killed and twelve injured in a rear end collision of a world's fair special on the Missouri Pacific near Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.

In a heavy fog, Nov. 4, a crowded ferryboat while crossing the East river, New York, was cut into by the steamboat City of Lowell, which stood by and rescued the passengers, a number of horses and trucks being lost.

Deaths.

The Rev. Benjamin F. De Costa, who left the Episcopal church to become a Catholic after Dr. Briggs was ordained by Bishop Potter, died at New York Nov. 4.

The Rev. William H. Elder, archbishop of the Cincinnati diocese, died in that city Oct. 31.

Russians' Last Stand at Port Arthur

Terrible beyond imagination was the spectacle disclosed to the civilized world when on Nov. 3, the birthday of the Japanese emperor, the Tokyo censor lifted the veil from the siege of Port Arthur. For six days the besieging army of General Nogi had been engaged in its third general assault on the great fortress. Thousands of the Japanese lay dead or writhing in agony on the steep slopes of the fort crowned hills to the east while their comrades drove the equally brave but exhausted Russian garrisons back into the inferno of the city which lay helpless under a murderous artillery fire, all but one of the Russian warships having been destroyed. General Stoessel was reported injured, and the garrison was said to have retired to the defenses on Golden hill and the Tiger's Tail, to the south, preparatory to making their last stand costly to the enemy.

General Nogi.

The great Russian and Japanese armies in Manchuria were standing face to face along Sha river with the almost hourly expectation of another great battle. General Kuropatkin has been placed in supreme command, Admiral Alexeieff being recalled to be governor of Moscow.

Both Russia and Japan have raised new war loans, and the fall of Port Arthur was not expected to show any sign of the war's ending. The Russian Baltic fleet finally got away from Vigo, Spain, and started on its journey eastward through the Mediterranean. The Japanese say they are prepared to meet this fleet and to destroy it.

A Russian writes from Port Arthur: "We have not a single bottle of anaesthetic left. Just think what agony the wounded must endure. The food is of the coarsest, and even that is becoming scarce, while disease is rife and sanitary conditions are deplorable, but we are all determined to hold out, come what will, in the hope of relief."

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.

Thurlow Gordon and Edgar Gilbert, students at Dartmouth college, are visiting their parents in town for a few days.

Dennis P. Connelly of Methuen has released the Lawrence and Methuen street railway company from any and all obligations in law and equity, imposed by a deed to the company which provided that the railway should construct a suitable roadway outside the westerly side of the portion conveyed. The instrument of release was filed with the register of deeds Saturday.

Dr. Clair of Washington, D. C., spoke at the Methodist church yesterday in the interest of the Freedman's Aid and Southern Educational society. Thursday night of this week the local Methodist church will unite with the Lawrence churches in a union service to be held in the Haverhill street church in Lawrence when M. C. B. Mason, D. D., the famous negro orator will deliver an address.

The selectmen have received a reply to their communication to the state highway commissioners in regard to the proposed state highway from Lowell to Lawrence, running through Dracut and Methuen. The board give the selectmen to understand that they are satisfied with the condition of things in Dracut, but that they will do nothing in regard to accepting the highway in that town until Methuen shall petition to have streets through Methuen accepted by the commissioners, thus connecting the state highway in Lowell with that in Lawrence. The commissioners did not state whether they would accept as a highway North Lowell street to Lowell street, where the macadam road put in by Methuen begins. If they would do that, the selectmen would probably send in a petition, but they do not believe the town would be willing to turn over that portion of Lowell and Orchard streets that has been macadamized at the town's expense to the state. It is probable that the selectmen will soon communicate with the commissioners again in the matter.

GADUOL.

The United States dispensatory thinks it probable that the real virtues of cod-liver oil reside in an active principle or principles. Gaduol is the alcoholic extract of the active principles of cod-liver oil. It produces a stimulant and alterative effect on the processes of nutrition and absorption, it does not disturb the appetite or affect the stomach. A wine of cod-liver oil prepared from Gaduol is a favorite tonic and has a large sale wherever introduced.

The Cod Wine advertised in another column meets the above requirements. It is for sale by Albert W. Lowe, druggist.

HENS KILLED.

Reports from the eastern part of Methuen indicate that there is a dog in that locality which has a liking for poultry and which the residents of that section would like to be rid of. Some days ago George Bradley reported a loss of seven hens, evidently killed by a dog, and Monday night George L. Cross of Merrimack street had 28 hens killed, evidently by a dog. The matter has been reported to the selectmen, and damages will be sought from the county, as the county is supposed to reimburse for all damages done by dogs.

The services of the Mandolin and Banjo clubs of Phillips academy, Andover, have been secured by the O. E. A. Tennis club for their entertainment in the Memorial hall on Friday evening, Nov. 25. This being the first appearance of the clubs in Methuen many will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing them. The Columbian orchestra of Lawrence will furnish the dance music.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists, Lawrence; W. A. Allen, Andover; C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

Election in Andover.

There are many interesting side lights to the election in Andover. In the first place, there was polled the largest vote ever cast. Out of a total of 1336 registered voters there were 1149 who came to the polls, and most of them voted for at least one name on the ballot. The same quiet that prevailed all through the campaign continued to the end, almost no excitement marking the work around the polling places. The full vote verified the belief that the voters' minds were made up, and they did not need any brass bands for guides.

In the second place, for the voters of precinct one there were entirely new surroundings for their voting. The lower hall was used for the first time, and taken all together the result of the experiment seemed to be quite satisfactory. There was some criticism of the light in the booths that was apparently well merited, but aside from that the approval was very general. The question of light is one that can be easily remedied, and thus one of the greatest obstacles to the Australian ballot in town elections seems to be removed.

The poor light in the booths opens up a third interesting phase of an interesting election, that of blank ballots. What should cause so many blank ballots? Not even the President escaped, and for most of the other offices the number of blanks ran up over the hundred mark. No election before has ever shown such a disregard of many of the important offices in Andover, as did that of Tuesday. Sixty-five failed to vote for President, 86 for governor, 111 for congressman, 130 for senator, and for some other offices where there were contests, over 200 blanks were thrown. It is understood that several ballots were cast with no marks whatever. And all this in enlightened Andover and apparently among the republicans.

We cannot refrain from assigning this condition of things in a great measure to the many voters who had not seen an Australian ballot for four years. From close examination of the list considerably over a hundred voters had not been to the polls since 1900, and it is not surprising that the somewhat dark booths and large ballots should help to make them a bit confused. A little more practice, say at least once a year, could not fail to have very beneficial results in lessening the "blanks" at the next presidential election.

So far as the general result is concerned, Andover took its place with the great part of the nation. "Alick" Bruce was remembered by some of his old friends and present business associates as was expected, but the rest of the democratic ticket had its normal support. This is, of course, excepting the vote for governor, which was like that in the rest of the state, a strong swing to Douglas. Now that over 1100 of our voters have reached the polls once, it will be an excellent plan for them to keep coming. The 1904 election has above all else pointed the way to a full vote. Let's keep it up.

Editorial Cinders.

There is a widespread expression of sympathy for Mr. John B. Jenkins and family in their recent bereavement, through the death of their son in the West. No one could be a better example of the courageous cheerful man than is this honored Andover citizen, who always has a bright smile and a strong hand grasp, whatever the adverse conditions.

No one has to do with the Town house without feeling a great deal of satisfaction over the excellent care taken of the remodelled building. And all the praise is well due to Janitor Saunders. The building is a model of neatness and comfort, and a credit not only to the town which provided it, but to the interested custodian of it.

If the poor man who is standing out in the Square "counting folks" to see if the Street Railway company needs a waiting room, is obliged to stay out in the cold much longer, he'll become a frozen monument to the chilly blasts of Elm Square, and to the very urgent need that exists for a little shelter.

Several citizens attended the moth convention at Arlington last Saturday, and came back filled with not only new knowledge upon the subject, but new enthusiasm for the work of applying the knowledge. All along the line the watchword is, "Preserve the trees", and Andover's part in this work is no inconsiderable one.

Second Night of the Grange Fair Largely Attended. Results of the Various Contests.

Last Friday evening the closing night of the annual Grange fair was held in the Grange hall in West Parish with a much larger attendance than on the preceding night. The weather was perfect for the fair and this fact caused many to come out. Those who went from down town on both nights were conveyed to and from the hall in Ammon Richardson's barge, good loads being taken on each evening.

The hall presented a very pretty appearance with its decorations of crepe paper and bunting, interwoven with much greenery. On the right down stairs was the check room in charge of James Grosvenor. Charles Bailey and James N. Putnam had charge of the tickets.

Most of the tables were situated in the upper hall and were handsomely decorated with colored bunting and evergreen. The tables were well ladened with fruit, vegetables, candy, fancy work, preserves, cake, etc., and every one of them was well patronized.

Down stairs the supper tables received considerable attention, many enjoying the fine turkey supper prepared by the ladies of the Grange. The Grangers are justly famous for their suppers and they kept up their reputation this year. The efficient committee in charge of this department were Samuel H. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. John Maddox, Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and Frank Foster.

On Thursday evening an entertainment was given by fourteen little picaninnies. On Friday night Newton's orchestra furnished the concert rendering several selections during the evening.

About half past nine B. Frank Smith closed all the guessing contests and the prizes were awarded to the following lucky ones: Beans in bottle, 867, nearest guess 849, Fred E. Hersom, prize plaque; number drawn from box, 110, Miss Minnie M. Hardy, prize tray; seeds in squash, 305, nearest guess, 307, Miss Clara A. Putnam, prize, picture; seeds in pumpkin, 336, nearest guess, 338, Miss L. W. Emerson, prize, quilt; seeds in squash, 277, nearest guess 283, W. F. Boutwell, prize, picture; seeds in squash, 653, nearest guess, 425, Miss Clara Putnam, prize, barrel of apples; seeds in squash, 792, nearest guess, 750, Mrs. Charles Jameson, prize, vegetable table; weight of stone, 12 pounds, 14 and 3-4 ounces, nearest guess, 13 pounds, 1 ounce, Miss Madeline Hughes, prize, sofa pillow; seeds in citron, 262, nearest guess, 287, John Maddox, prize, horse blanket; seeds in pumpkin, 553, nearest guess 533, Joseph T. Lovejoy, prize, carving set; weight of cake, 9 pounds, 11 ounces, nearest guess, 9 pounds, 10 ounces, Chester Whitten.

After the prizes had been announced Mr. Smith as auctioneer soon disposed of all the perishable articles at prices to suit all. A good sum was realized by the auction.

Altogether the fair was up to the high standard set by the Grangers, and a good round sum was the reward for their work. A dance on Monday night in connection with the fair was most enjoyable. It was in charge of Clarence Mooar.

Abbot Academy Notes.

On the 19th of November, Saturday afternoon, at half past two o'clock, in Abbot hall, the Hon. Chester Holcombe comes to lecture in the Abbot Academy course, on the "Ethics of the Japanese-Russian Conflict" or "Which is Right, Japan or Russia?" Mr. Holcombe was the United States Minister in China, and has written and lectured a great deal upon China and its relations to other countries. He was a member of the commission to negotiate treaties between the United States and China, was a friend of Li Hung Chang, and of Gen. Grant, whom he accompanied through China on his tour of the world, and is a director of the American Board of Foreign Missions. He has passed the greater part of his life in China, and is supposed to be the best foreign speaker of the Chinese language. It is doubtful whether there is anyone more intimately acquainted with the questions about which he speaks than Mr. Holcombe. The lecture will be open to the friends of Abbot academy at $.35 a ticket.

On the 6th of December, we have the pleasure to announce that Mr. Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama, will speak to the Abbot Academy students on the "Race Problems and the work at Tuskegee." It is unnecessary, of course, to say anything about a man so distinguished as Mr. Washington. All thoughtful citizens are exceedingly interested in his work. This is only a preliminary announcement of his lecture on the evening mentioned at a quarter of eight o'clock. The place is not quite decided upon; and will be announced later.

Public School Notes.

All boys between the ages of 14 and 16 who are employed during the day, are invited to come to the Guild house, Saturday evening, at seven o'clock, to form a boy's club.

Wm. H. Welch & Co., have completed their contract for the sanitaries and plumbing at the Punchard and John Dove schools, and George Saunders has handed in his final accounts for the sanitaries, heating and plumbing at the Indian Ridge schools. Hardy & Cole have also finished their contract work at these four buildings. The central heating plant is substantially finished, and the work under contract by E. W. Pitman on the annex is being rapidly pushed toward completion.

Superintendent of schools Palmer is attending a meeting of the New England Superintendent's association in Boston today.

A special car conveyed many of the dancers to Lawrence at the conclusion.

A large sum of money was realized by the young ladies who had the affair in charge and it will go towards the parochial residence fund.

Rufus B. Richardson will deliver a lecture for the Phillips academy students and any others who wish to come, at the dining hall on the evening of Friday, November 18th. The lecture will probably be on the excavations of Corinth, which were under the personal supervision of Mr. Richardson himself and were conducted by the American Archaeology school at Athens, of which he was director for many years. Previous to this he was professor of Greek at Dartmouth college. Mr. Richardson is one of the greatest archaeologists of the present day, and he has written a book called "Vacation Days in Greece" as the subject. His son graduated from P. A. Harvest Supper and Entertainment.

A most enjoyable harvest supper, entertainment and dance was held in Pilgrim and Odd Fellows hall on Monday evening, under the auspices of Indian Ridge lodge, Daughters of Rebekah. The affair was attended by a large number of members and friends of the order, over 200 sitting down to the tables.

The supper held in Pilgrim hall was furnished by the ladies and was an exceptionally fine one. The menu consisted of cold meats, rolls, salads, pickles, brown bread, beans, cake, pie, coffee, tea, fruit and many other delicacies. There was an abundance of food and no one was heard to complain.

After the supper the lodge members adjourned to the Odd Fellows hall, where a meeting was held, it being their regular meeting night.

Following this came the entertainment furnished by members and visiting talent. Every number was beautifully rendered and each contributor received hearty applause. Encores were numerous, to which each of the entertainers kindly responded. The program was as follows:

Piano solo	Miss Laura Meader
Vocal solo	Miss Whitman
Reading	Frank Hardy
Violin solo	Miss Charlotte Holt
Vocal solo	Miss Whitman

Dancing followed the entertainment in Pilgrim hall and was enjoyed by the younger people for some time, the music being furnished by Miss Laura Meader.

Besides enjoying the evening, a goodly sum was realized for the treasury of the lodge.

Social at Free Church

Yesterday afternoon at the Free church vestry the regular meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society was held, and in the evening occurred a general social and entertainment. A supper was served at 6 o'clock, for which a small fee was charged.

Games were played and a general good time followed. This part was in charge of the Sunday school class of Deacon John W. Bell. Peanut races were held for the children, and in the girl's race the prize was won by Marion Wilder. The boy's prize was won by Peter Matthews. A race by the men resulted in a victory for Superintendent Corwin F. Palmer.

Entertainment at Grange.

On Tuesday evening at the Andover Grange the local Patrons of Husbandry were entertained by the Grangers from Methuen and West Boxford. The hall was filled to overflowing with an interested audience who listened to a very laughable drama given by the visitors.

The first, entitled "An Old Maid's Wooing," was presented by the Methuen Grange and during the entire play the audience was kept in continuous laughter. Several jokes hitting local people made much merriment and the large amount of good natured fun made the evening pass away very quickly.

The play given by the Boxford Grange was also very funny and full of good hits.

The cast of characters for "An Old Maid's Wooing" was as follows:

John Hopkins, Sally's bashful admirer, Arthur Scollay
Dan Jeffers, Deacon Smith's nephew, George Crosby
Richard Dunn, Sally's lawyer, Benjamin Gordon
Rev. Mr. Brown, the young parson, E. L. Burnham
Steve Muchmore, a country bumpkin, afflicted with stammering, William Williamson

Obituary.

BENJAMIN JENKINS.

Benjamin, youngest son of John B. and Ellen H. Jenkins, was born at the old homestead in Andover, Dec. 21, 1869; his death occurred at St. Louis, Mo., November 3, 1904.

He was a scholar of unusual merit and after leaving the district school, graduated from the Punchard high school with honors, at the age of sixteen.

Ben, as he was familiarly called, was fearless and self-protecting when a boy, and bravely left home at an early age to make his own way in life. He returned occasionally to look upon the dear faces of his family, bringing with him his life record, a fine physique and an assuring countenance. His genial nature had won him many valuable friends whose fidelity has been evident during his illness of three months.

He was an exceptional business manager, tactful and trustworthy. May the family sorrow be palliated by the thought that the injury which resulted in their great sorrow, was received through faithfulness to duty and adherence to order, Heaven's first law.

The Plains Indians.

Thursday evening, Nov. 17th, Mr. W. K. Moorehead will lecture before members of the Andover Natural History Society upon the above subject. The discourse will be illustrated by numerous stereopticon views. The Custer fight will be described.

The public is invited. The lecture is at eight o'clock and will be held in the recitation hall of the archaeology building.

Be sure and see Farr's line of fall dress goods before you buy your fall suit Woolen remnants of all kinds.

THE RESULT OF ELECTIONS

A Great Republican Sweep in the Nation — An Unexpected Reverse in the State — Local Results Greatly Please Republicans.

Theodore Roosevelt has been chosen President by the greatest vote ever recorded in the Country's history. A great personal victory is his by the result of Tuesday's voting, and the government is overwhelmingly Republican with him.

A Democratic governor in Massachusetts is a rarity, but the State has so chosen, and for 1905 W. L. Douglas will be the State's chief executive. Again the "personal" element seems to be the responsible factor.

Tuesday was an ideal day for the national election as well as a brilliant Roosevelt day. This latter fact was clearly shown by the vote in Andover as well as in most of the country. In Andover the largest vote in the history of the town was polled, 963 ballots out of a total of 1129 being cast.

The polls opened at six o'clock sharp in the lower town hall and the warden, George A. Higgins, read the warrant. A few minutes after six Sheriff George S. Cole deposited the initial ballot. At half past six 70 ballots had been cast, an average of two and one half a minute.

During the morning the voting was very heavy and at 12 o'clock 630 ballots had been cast. From twelve to one was the busiest portion of the day 150 votes being polled.

From one o'clock until the polls closed at 4.30 less than 200 more men registered their choice.

At that time it was voted that the polls be closed and all the election officers set to work counting the ballots. The ballot was much larger this year than in previous years and there was an unusually large number of split ballots, making the counting slow and difficult.

At 6.30 a lunch was served the counters by Caterer F. P. Higgins and the work was resumed. At 8.30 the outcome was announced to a large gathering in the hall.

The election officials were as follows: Precinct 1, George A. Higgins, warden; Frank H. Hardy, deputy warden; Daniel J. Moynihan, clerk; Daniel A. Collins, deputy clerk; Louis A. Dane, inspector; William J. Doherty, inspector; Timothy Mahoney, deputy inspector; J. Frank Morse, deputy inspector.

In precinct 2 nearly the full compliment of votes were polled and was done at an early hour. At five o'clock the counting had been finished and the result was announced.

The election officers in this precinct were as follows: Howell F. Wilson, warden; Chester E. Matthews, deputy warden; Owen F. Caffrey, clerk; Michael J. Flaherty, deputy clerk; Willis B. Hodgkins, inspector; Nathan E. Mears, inspector; John S. Dearborn, deputy inspector; Martin McKeon, deputy inspector.

The whole town kept up its reputation of being a straight Republican community, the full Republican ticket winning, although in the vote for governor, the majority was severely cut over previous years.

In the Presidential vote President Roosevelt received a handsome endorsement winning over Parker with a majority of 499 votes.

In the Congressional and Senatorial contests which were conceded to be very close, Ames and Castle, both Republicans, won with handy margins over Bruce and Flynn, the Democratic candidates with 254 and 350 pluralities, respectively. There was an unusually large number of blanks which kept the majorities for Ames and Castle lower than was expected.

PUNCHARD SCHOOL

Thursday afternoon the Physical Geography class visited Ballardvale and studied the glacial formations there. This is one of the best localities in New England for the study of certain types of glacial deposits. Every Thursday afternoon, weather permitting, there is an excursion to some point of interest in town. These excursions are required of all pupils taking physical geography; and, from this time on, any pupil in school may go with the class. The trips will be of interest to those who have studied geology or physical geography in previous years.

Miss Carret, supervisor of physical culture, has a class for Punchard girls the first period Tuesdays. The work is done in the upstairs hall. All girls who have no recitation this period may join the class. At present about forty girls are taking this work.

Beginning next week the class in elementary physics will meet the last period Friday instead of the first period Tuesday. On the other days the class will meet as usual the first period. The change is made in order that the girls of the class may take the gymnastic work with Miss Carret.

Last Saturday evening the Andover Natural History society held a regular meeting in Room 1, Punchard building Mr. Low gave an illustrated talk on a camping trip in the Black Hills and the Bighorn Mountains, Wyoming. Principal C. L. Curtis was elected a member of the society.

Grades are to be given this year in the special subjects, music and drawing. Pupils will be graded in these subjects chiefly on the basis of effort shown. Satisfactory grades must be maintained in these subjects, otherwise the pupil will not be promoted.

Next Monday evening Mr. Low will give a talk on chemistry, with experiments, before the Young Men's club of the Free church. Pupils in chemistry and other Punchard pupils interested are invited.

All text books used this year are to be covered as an aid to keeping them in good condition. Books are examined by the teacher at least twice a term. All books defaced or torn must be paid for by the pupil.

The Current Topics club continues to meet each Tuesday evening. The attendance at the meetings is large and much interest is manifested.

POLITICS and GOVERNMENT

Legal and Criminal.

Murderous Bandits at Cody.

Four armed men rode up to the First National bank at Cody, Wyo., Nov. 1, and three of them entered and demanded cash from the vault, at the same time covering Cashier Middaugh with revolvers. Middaugh grabbed a revolver and fired several shots, but was himself shot and instantly killed by the outlaws. The shooting aroused the place, and the robbers had to run for their lives. As they made toward the Hole in the Wall wilderness several posses went in pursuit, and Buffalo Bill, who was just about due at the place named after him with a party of Englishmen and two of his Sioux scouts, joined the man hunt. After several brushes between the posses and outlaws the latter were believed to be surrounded in the Bad Lands on Kirby creek. Later advices said that Buffalo Bill had decided to leave the man hunt to the posses.

Colonel W. F. Cody.

Traction Combine Holdup.

The formation of a blind pool, composed of the St. Louis Transit company and United Railways company assets, was prevented Oct. 31, when the circuit court issued an injunction restraining Brown Bros. & Co. of New York from carrying out this programme.

Move to Stop Asphalt Suits.

On petition of the Land Title and Trust company of Philadelphia in the name of the asphalt trust collateral holders, Judge Lanning in the district court at Trenton, N. J., ordered Receiver Tatnall of the defunct asphalt companies to show cause why the pending suits against the promoters of the concerns should not be discontinued. Two weeks were given in which to make answer.

Witnesses For Nan Patterson.

Two men have come forward with statements which seem to clear Nan Patterson, now awaiting trial at New York on the charge of murdering Caesar Young, the wealthy bookmaker, in a cab on June 4 last. They are M. W. Hazelton, a wealthy retired merchant of Oneonta, N. Y., and Joseph Latour, a laborer with a criminal record. For different reasons, both say, they kept in the background at the time of the shooting to avoid publicity, but feel it their duty now to testify to the innocence of the accused young woman. They say they saw Young shoot himself.

Executive.

Cruiser West Virginia O. K.

The armored cruiser West Virginia, constructed by the Newport News Shipbuilding company, had her official trial trip over the New England course and showed the average speed of 22.14 knots an hour. The contract requirements were only twenty-two knots an hour for four consecutive hours. Her average speed was slightly under that of the recently tested Colorado, which was built by the Cramps, although for a short distance the West Virginia exceeded the best speed shown by the Colorado.

Consumptives Barred Out.

The civil service commission has issued a rule debarring from employment in the government service persons afflicted with consumption. The rule applies particularly to postoffices. Hereafter all applicants for a government position of any kind must submit to a physical examination if the presence of tuberculosis is suspected.

The Per Capita Circulation.

The amount of money in circulation in the United States on Nov. 1 aggregated $2,583,476,661. Based on the population of 82,329,000, this amounts to a per capita circulation of $31.38, the highest yet reached. At the same date last year it was $29.99, and in 1900 it was $27.82.

Army Estimates Lower.

The war department estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, aggregate $103,686,780, or $22,242,612 less than the last year's estimates. Of this amount the expense of the army and Military academy is $72,705,156, a decrease of nearly $5,000,000.

Treaty With France Signed.

Secretary of State Hay and the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, signed Nov. 1, at Washington, a treaty providing for the settlement by arbitration of any possible disputes between the United States and France. Out of deference to the senate the text of the treaty is not made public until that body shall act upon it. It is known, however, that the treaty is similar to the recent Anglo-French arbitration convention.

Thanksgiving Day Proclaimed.

President Roosevelt has issued the customary proclamation designating Nov. 24 as a day of festival and thanksgiving for the blessings of peace and prosperity during the past year. In expressing thanks the president takes occasion to say that in this republic "the effort to bind national strength with personal freedom is being tried on a scale more gigantic than ever before in the world's history."

Footing Up October's Bill.

The United States treasury report for October shows that expenditures exceed receipts by $4,000,000. The available cash balance on Nov. 1 was $146,852,659. It is said that the treasury now holds less than 820,000 standard silver dollars.

Foreign.

Canada Returns Laurier.

The parliamentary elections in Canada, Nov. 3, resulted in a two to one majority for the Liberal premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The leading issue in the campaign was the Grand Trunk Pacific railway project. The Laurier government will have a majority of over sixty in the house of commons. The result is an indorsement for the railroad project.

Mikado's Birthday Wish.

At the birthday banquet of the mikado of Japan at Tokyo, Nov. 3, attended by the foreign diplomats, the Japanese ruler expressed a desire for peace, but said the time has not yet come for its realization.

Panama Republic's Birthday.

On the first anniversary of the formation of the republic of Panama, Nov. 3, President Roosevelt sent a message of felicitation to President Amador and received a grateful reply.

The North Sea Verdict.

The inquest at Hull, England, into the death of the two fishermen who were killed in the attack of the Russian squadron resulted in a verdict that the victims were killed by the Russians without warning or provocation, but an appreciation of Russia's amends was added. Steps were taken toward the formation of the international court at Vigo, where the Russian officers and witnesses concerned remained, their ships proceeding on the journey, watched by British vessels.

French Antichurch Bill.

The French government's project for the separation of church and state as presented by Premier Combes provides for a period of transition with a view to replacing old church conditions with new ones gradually. It allows the clergy an indemnity for four years, so that they may arrange for the private support of their churches. A system of pensions is also provided for the higher dignitaries of the church. The embassy to the Vatican is suppressed. Although the cabinet's tenure of office was saved by a majority of only four votes, the government showed no signs of a changed policy. Minister of War Andre was the object of violent attacks for favoritism in the advancement of officers. His resignation was demanded.

RELIGIOUS

New Salvationist Commander.

Miss Eva Booth, daughter of General Booth, who for eight years has been in command of the Salvation Army in Canada, has been designated commander also in the United States, with headquarters at New York. Commissioner Kilby as deputy will have jurisdiction over the western section, with headquarters at Chicago. Booth Tucker returns to England.

The Sunday School at Home.

A novel plan for increasing the membership and usefulness of his Sunday school has been adopted by the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Goodell of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, New York city. In every home of his congregation boys are to distribute lesson papers during the week, and on Sunday women will call to hear the lessons and tell of the work of the school. The names of the babies will be enrolled and certificates of membership given to the mothers, thus entitling the babies to membership in the kindergarten of the Sunday school.

Club Women In Illinois.

The recent convention of the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs disclosed a membership of 24,000 in 265 organizations, says the Woman's Journal. The federation favored raising the age of consent to eighteen and indorsed a bill to grant women all suffrage rights possible under the state constitution.

Women Physicians In Russia.

Women who wish to practice medicine in Russia have been placed on the same footing as men by imperial decree. Those who offer a diploma from a foreign university may be admitted at once to the official examination.

Meredith's Marriage Idea.

George Meredith, the distinguished British novelist, in an interview for the London Daily Mail predicts a radical change in the legal condition of marriage and a public sentiment in favor of a system of matrimony for certain periods under contracts supervised by the state so as to provide for the proper education of children.

Status of Our Public Schools.

Twenty per cent of this country's population, or 16,900,361 pupils, attended the public schools during the last fiscal year, according to the report of United States Commissioner of Education William T. Harris, which has just been made public. This shows a slight decrease in percentage. The total cost of our public school system is $251,457,625, an increase of $16,000,000 over the previous year. Each pupil's tuition is $3.15. Since 1870 the proportion of men teachers has decreased from 39 per cent of the entire number to 26 per cent last year. The average compensation for men teachers last year was $49.98 and that for women $40.51. By the addition of pupils in elementary schools, academies, institutions for higher education, evening schools, business schools, private kindergartens, Indian schools, state schools and schools for defectives and orphans the grand total of 18,187,918 pupils is reached.

W. T. Harris.

Great Gymnasium For Women.

The important part of Columbia university's sesquicentennial celebration was the laying of the cornerstones of four new buildings and the dedication of one new building. The completed building is the $400,000 gymnasium for women. America is the first country to have such a building devoted exclusively to the physical education of women. The object is twofold—first, to provide for the education of teachers of physical culture, and, second, to provide a suitable place for the physical training of the students of the Teachers' college and the Horace Mann school. The opportunities of the new gymnasium are to be opened to all women who may desire them.

A Sensational Campaign Wind-up

Popular suffrage wins! That was the one absolutely safe bet on the eve of Tuesday's presidential election, when this record went to press. The American people as a whole rested in the happy certainty that the mandate of the majority would be obeyed without question, however earnest might be the convictions or bitter the personal feeling of the opposing partisans.

Bitter indeed was the last week of the campaign, which began with soft words and mutual congratulations on the high personal character of the candidates. When Judge Parker leaped from his porch at Rosemount into the glare and blare of a "whirlwind finish" on the stump, the very magnetism of the vast cheering audiences he faced at New York, at Newark and in Connecticut towns appeared to rouse him to a new sense of the value of the Cortelyou charges as a political weapon. Again and again he drove home his charge of a Republican league with trusts in the collection of corruption funds, based on the selection of Mr. Cortelyou as the president's campaign manager.

President Roosevelt, unwilling that "the silence of self respect" should be misunderstood, gave to the press, Nov. 5, a fiercely indignant denunciation of these charges as "monstrous" and "wicked" falsehoods. Assuming that the fact of campaign contributions on either side was not the issue, he referred to his campaign record on the trusts and labor and explicitly entered denial that any promises of immunity had been made to influence corporations. He would, if elected, "see to it that every man has a square deal, no less and no more." This statement was re-enforced by the denials of Root, Lodge, Knox and other Republican orators on the stump, all of whom referred to the charges as slanderous.

Judge Parker returned to the attack in a speech in New York, laying stress on the fact of Mr. Cortelyou's former official position as trust inquisitor, and left this and all other issues with the people for judgment. It was virtually a race of the opposing parties to see which could get in the last word.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Potts tell their stories for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she had had from your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, MRS. CHAS. F. BROWN, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers' Club."

Suffering women should not fail to profit by Mrs. Brown's experiences; just as surely as she was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration. Read the story of Mrs. Potts to all mothers:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—During the early part of my married life I was very delicate in health. I had two miscarriages, and both my husband and I felt very badly as we were anxious to have children. A neighbor who had been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it, and I decided to do so. I soon felt that my appetite was increasing, the headaches gradually decreased and finally disappeared, and my general health improved. I felt as if new blood coursed through my veins, the sluggish tired feeling disappeared, and I became strong and well.

"Within a year after I became the mother of a strong healthy child, the joy of our home. You certainly have a splendid remedy, and I wish every mother knew of it.—Sincerely yours, MRS. ANNA POTTS, 510 Park Ave., Hot Springs, Ark."

If you feel that there is anything at all unusual or puzzling about your case, or if you wish confidential advice of the most experienced, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and you will be advised free of charge. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured and is curing thousands of cases of female troubles—curing them inexpensively and absolutely. Remember this when you go to your druggist. Insist upon getting

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for a list of testimonials. Address

ONLY MAKES A BAD MATTER WORSE.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. FOOTBALL

ANDOVER 36; LAWRENCEVILLE 0.

Lawrencevill academy was defeated, 36 to 0, and completely outclassed by Phillips Andover in the championship football game at Lawrenceville Saturday. Superior weight and exceedingly fast play were the main features in Andover's victory.

From end to end, Andover found holes in the line of the Jersey boys, and their attacks were irresistible. Captain Thompson, besides carrying the ball successfully, was very strong on the defence.

Bullock did some excellent work for Andover, in making sensational end runs. Only once did Lawrenceville threaten Andover's goal. McKaig broke away for a 50-yard run, but he was downed by Bullock.

Lawrenceville had Andover on the defensive for a short time, the last of the first half, but during the greater part of the game the New Jersey team was completely outclassed.

The Lawrenceville team was extremely light and was not so strong as the 1903 eleven.

P. A. '06 12; TIGERS 6.

The P. A. '06 football team defeated the Tigers on Brothers field on Saturday afternoon in a hard fought and interesting game. The school boys were much heavier in the line than the Tigers and gains were made quite frequent on center plays but on the whole they held very well.

The game was won by the class team through fumbling on the part of the Tigers backs. The ball in one instance was kicked by '06 and was misjudged by Barton. It was kicked over the goal line and one of the P. A. boys fell on it. Their other touchdown was made with straight playing.

In the second half the Tigers made their only points on centre and end plays. Abbott was the star player, making long gains through right tackle. Barton and Burtt added many yards when called upon.

Hickey's fumbles of punts came near costing the Tigers a touchdown as time was called in the second half with the ball on their one-yard line. The lineup:

Next Saturday afternoon at Andover New England's greatest preparatory school rivals, Andover and Exeter, will face each other in their annual game. Both usually have strong teams, and this year they seem more evenly matched than ever.

Exeter already has beaten two Maine college teams, Bowdoin and Bates, decisively, and both teams have scored signal victories over the Harvard freshmen, Harvard scrub and New Hampshire state college teams. And, besides, Andover has won a victory over the Yale '07 class team, and Saturday overwhelmed Lawrenceville on the latter's grounds.

The showing of the teams all through the year has been such as to give the game unusual importance among the contests of the season and there promises to be one of the largest crowds present that ever attended the game.

An unusual feature of this year's game will be to see the captains of the two teams facing each other in the line. MacFayden, Exeter' leader, is a veteran, and so is Thompson, the man who will captain the Andover team. Both are giants, and both have age and experience to back them up.

Donald MacKenzie, MacFayden '06 of Exeter, of South Boston, is playing left guard for his third season, and is a pillar of strength in the line.

Born in Nova Scotia Jan. 25, 1877, practically his entire life has been spent in Boston, whence with the strongest of recommendations from the Young Men's Christian association he came to Exeter in the fall of 1902. Before coming to Exeter he lived in South Boston, where he worked in the heavy machinery department of a large local shipyard.

Nearly 6 feet tall, weighing 226 pounds, without a pound of superfluous flesh, and of strength commensurate with his weight, he at once commended himself as a promising candidate for the Exeter eleven, which he easily made, despite an utter ignorance of the game. He has steadily gained in playing ability.

Capt. MacFayden is a warm friend of Capt. Thompson of Andover, and they were opposing guards a year ago, the advantage being with MacFayden, as Thompson freely admitted after the game. As captain, MacFayden has the fullest confidence of the team and the school, which has no more popular member. The captaincy has in no wise detracted from his individual play.

Capt. E. J. Thompson of the Phillips Andover team is the heaviest man on the eleven, weighing 220 pounds. He stands 6 feet 1 inch and looks almost like a giant in comparison with the other linemen.

Thompson's defensive work is particularly strong, and he is so active, despite his weight, that he is a very hard man for an opponent to handle. He usually has the opposing lineman at a disadvantage because of his weight and hight. Andover's attack is directed mainly through his side of the line because of Thompson's ability to open holes.

ROOSEVELT ON LABOR UNIONS.

Ray Stannard Baker in November McClure's.

It will be seen, then, that President Roosevelt has expressed his thoroughgoing belief in labor organizations, and that he has acted upon many measures looking to the improvement of the conditions of workingmen. On the other hand, all his messages and addresses point to a very clear recognition of the limitations of trades-unionism. First, his speeches bristle with declarations that labor unions must obey the law. Obedience to law is the keynote of a large proportion of the President's utterances.

Not only has President Roosevelt spoken against lawlessness among labor unions, but he has not hesitated to act. In 1903, during the miners' strikes in Arizona, at the request of the territorial authorities, he ordered out the federal troops to stop mob rioting and kept them in service until peace was restored.

But he has seen a still more important limitation to the operations of trades-unionism. While recognizing sharply their right to strike, their rignt to better themselves in every lawful way, he also recognizes that they must not press those rights to the point of "brutal indifference to the rights of others" that the public is injured. Here lies the essence of the difference between Judge Parker's viws and Pres. Roosevelt's views. Both candidates perceive clearly the vital importance of the fundamental principles of unionism: President Roosevelt also recognizes their limitations. President Roosevelt recognizes that the rights of trades-unions must be curtailed at the point where they interfere with the superior rights of the public. By his decision Judge Parker allows the union to press its right of striking—and it is an undeniable right—until non-union or rival union men are driven completely out of existence, with the possibility of a resulting labor monopoly which arbitrarily raises wages and mulcts the public—as the labor monopoly has done in New York.

CLOSING GUNS OF THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

One of the most enthusiastic Republican rallies ever held in this city took place at city hall Saturday evening. Every seat in the hall was occupied and hundreds were standing. Many ladies occupied seats in the galleries.

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Congressman Charles H. Littlefield of Maine and Congressman Butler Ames of Lowell were the speakers, and all were enthusiastically received.

Snator Lodge was the first speaker and he was given such an ovation that it was some time before he could begin his speech. He made one of the most effective campaign speeches ever delivered in Lawrence. He used no extravagant language and abandoned entirely the common practice of the spellbinder of resorting to flowery but often meaningless language to make an impression. He presented a calm, polished, convincing argument, occasionally ridiculing but never abusing his opponents, and held his auditors' interest for over an hour, being frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause. At the close of his address the ovation he received when presented was renewed.

Congressman Ames followed Senator Lodge and was given a rousing cheer. Congressman Littlefield was the last speaker, and the warmth of his reception showed that his eloquent address delivered here two years ago had not been forgotten.

The speakers reached Lawrence at 6 p. m. and were escorted to the Franklin house by ex-Senator Archie N. Frost, Postmaster Byron Truell and ex-Alderman Fred H. Eaton. Supper was served there and a brief reception was held to invited guests.

Just before 8 o'clock a procession was formed on Broadway and the speakers were escorted to the hall by the local Republican campaign clubs, headed by the Lawrence Brass band. A public reception was held in the common council chamber.

The rally was opened soon after 8 o'clock by Chairman Frost of the Republican city committee.

Among those seated on the platform besides the speakers were: Representative Edwin J. Castle, George E. Kunhardt, C. O. Andrews, John H. Spinlow, David Bailey, John D. Dickie, ex-Senator Charles F. Sargent, Byron Truell, F. H. Eaton, N. E. Rankin, Joseph Donovan, William M. Stuart, Dr. C. G. Carleton, N. O. Magoon, R. F. McCrillis, Lewis H. Schwartz, Otto Kress, F. E. Twiss, Clinton P. Vose, Charles H. Salisbury, Alderman Moses Marshall, Col. Melvin Beal, William H. Russell, Charles H. Littlefield, Hugh Bell, Henry B. Lane, M. D. Currier.

QUESTION OF PROVINCIALISM.

A Senator of Missouri tells of the reply made by a Kansas City man, who was visiting in New York city, to a man disposed to patronize the Westerner. Said the latter:

"We visited Missouri. It's a fine State, and I like the people. There's only one fault in the inhabitants, and that is they are too provincial.

At this the Missouri man became angry.

"Let me tell you one thing," he shouted. "Missourians may be provincial in some things, but in one at least they're far less provincial than the people of New York."

"Indeed?" queried the New Yorker provokingly. "And in what respect, pray?"

"In this respect sir," responded the Missouri man. "No one in New York knows much about Missouri but every one in Missouri knows all about New York."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Commercial Tree Studies in the South.

This field season the Bureau of Forestry will complete certain studies of important commercial trees in the South. The species under investigation are yellow poplar, white, red, black, and chestnut oak, chestnut, white pine, and hemlock. A great mass of data has been collected as a basis for tables showing the proportion of these species in various types of the Appalachian forest, the volume of merchantable timber, and the rate of growth of the several species. This season trained men of the Bureau will pay special attention to the silvicultural characteristics and the commercial possibilities of these trees. They will also apply the information collected by the Bureau in the last two years, embodying it in practical suggestions for conservative forest management by timberland owners of the South.

The aim of a commercial tree study is to secure the information necessary for the successful application of forestry where the tree forms an important part of the forest crop. It involves, among other things, knowledge of its methods of reproduction, that it may continue to form a part, and very likely a larger part, of the forest, instead of being relaced, when lumbered, by less available trees; of its rate of growth, on which depends the calculation of future returns; of the conditions of light, soil, moisture, etc., under which it flourishes best; of its ability to compete with the various other species with which it is associated in the various types of forest in which it occurs, and what management can do to improve conditions for it; of when it will pay to plan for it as part of a permanent timber-producing forest; and of how it ought to be lumbered to secure the largest present and future returns. In the light of the knowledge which such studies furnish, the forester is in a position to make an intelligent working plan for tracts in which the trees studied form, or can be made to form, a valuable part of the stand of timber. In that case lumbering does not mean ruining the forest, denuding the ground and leaving it barren or to grow up in worthless brush, but a regular timber output, while the forest constantly improves in character and the value of its growth.

Acting under its general cooperative offer, the Bureau of Forestry is now preparing detailed working plans for several tracts of timber belonging to private owners in the States of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, and North Carolina. Three of the problems of management presented may be briefly indicated. In Kentucky the owner of a 40,000 acre tract wishes to retain a large part of the property in forest for continuous production of railroad ties. In West Virginia a 30,000 acre tract, the property of a mining company, must be made to maintain a permanent supply of timbers for use in the mines. In the same State another working plan for 5,000 acres of timberland aims to secure a steady income from the sale of the timber grown.

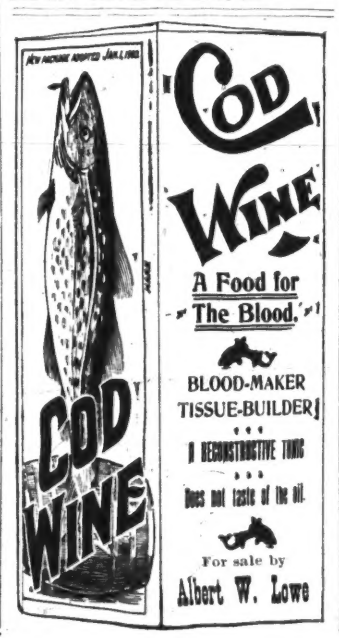

The problems of management presented the Bureau differ with changing forest conditions and with the various purposes of the owners. The Bureau field force examines the forest and counts and measures the trees to determine the stand of each species, the rate of growth, and both present and prospective yield in board feet. Having this information, and knowing the habits of growth of the different species, the Bureau is then in position to give definite advice as to the proper course to pursue to attain by management any specified end.

This branch of the Bureau's work is of importance not only to the owners of large timber tracts, but as well to those whose holdings consist of merely 50 or 100 acres. The purpose of the Bureau is not to benefit any particular owner or set of owners, but to encourage and establish conservative forestry everywhere for the general good of the nation. Individuals derive direct benefits from this work, but the knowledge and experience thus gained by the Bureau are for application to whole sections and contribute to the scientific knowledge and practice of forestry.

There are now 28 experts concluding the commercial tree studies under way in the four States above mentioned. While these agents of the Bureau are on the ground, owners of timberlands or small woodlots in those States should seize the opportunity, so conveniently at hand, for obtaining a preliminary examination of their holdings. This will be doneby the Bureau entirely without cost to them, and would certainly prove highly beneficial to their interests. The Bureau is glad to receive applications for such examinations.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON BROWN TAILED MOTH.

Prof. A. H. Kirkland, entomologist, of Boston, is to deliver a lecture on the Brown Tailed Moth to be illustrated by stereopticon in Stevens hall on next Friday evening, Nov. 11th at 7.45 o'clock. The lecture is the work of the tree protection committee of the North Andover Improvement society, and the selectmen and tree warden. It is to be a free lecture; the Improvement society pays the lecturer who is high priced. He will give intelligent instruction as to the habits and life of the brown tail and how best to rid us of it.
